WHO IS THIS COURSE FOR?

"This course is designed for people wanting to be the leader of their lives and not subjected to the agenda of their anxiety."

It helps them go from trying to suppress it to understanding how anxiety can be a powerful part of their personal performance toolkit.

If you are willing to be interested and investigative about yourself, I invite you to join me."

ANXIETY IMPACTS PERFORMANCE

Everyone has anxieties (fears & limiting beliefs), which form part of a skill set that we use to survive in life. However, it can start to take over and represent us on all fronts. It can mean that life doesn't feel the way we wish it would and it can negatively effect your work, relationships, health and wellbeing. Whether you lead an organisation of thousands or you want to create change on a personal level, anxiety can stand in your way.

The good news is that Rob has coached hundreds of people to get past such obstacles and he has designed a course to help you.

TESTIMONIALS

“I really enjoyed learning about myself and to see that what I fear is not as much of an obstacle as I thought. I am able to breath and relax more which means I have better relationships with my family.”
(Sarah)

“Discussing my own fears and worries with other people who had similar feelings was amazing. This helped me to see the bigger picture by exploring myself from different perspectives. I became interested about my fears and anxieties rather than avoiding them ” (David)

TESTIMONIALS

“I liked that Rob explained we are not trying to eradicate anxiety but to learn about it as a character. I never thought of doing this and it made it so much more comfortable to talk about.” (Ann Marie)

“I get a lot more done because I am not fearful of making a decision and running with it. I have let go of trying to make a perfect decision and that has been life changing.” (Female NHS patient).

ROBS MISSION

During the COVID lockdowns Rob coached hundreds of NHS patients and private clients. He saw the cost of rising levels of anxiety and worked to help people find more freedom and choice in their lives.

In response to increased levels of anxiety and stress, Rob developed this group coaching course and he has been humbled by the positive outcomes it has brought.

Rob loves to teach people about themselves and their anxiety so they get to own it rather than it owning them.

He is the Sherpa Bear and he helps people Catch their Fish.

WHO IS ROB?

Rob is the founder of Sherpa Bear Coaching.

He is a professionally trained and certified Life Coach and has a background in teaching and training that he combines to serve his clients.

He coaches private clients, management teams, leaders and devotes time to helping younger clients navigate uncertain times.
